Dr. Crooks holds a gold medal in history and a doctorate from the University of Dublin. He is a Lecturer in Late Medieval History at the University of East Anglia. His speech will center around the perceptions, current debates and common misconceptions surrounding empires, making use of medieval examples, Wikileaks data, and records released by the UK’s Iraq inquiry.

Please visit pages.wustl.edu/wuir for details.